THE NEW BMW M2 COUPÉ. FRONT DESIGN.

The double-round headlights support the forward thrusting and agile expression of the vehicle. They taper off inwards in a form reminiscent of the human eye. This way, there is a close visual association with the kidney grille giving the front a forward-focused view.

The kidney grille with its slender bar around the frame is slightly tilted forward creating the so-called “shark nose”.

Trapezoid blades in the outer inlets are symptomatic of the huge front spoilers seen in motorsport history. These capture the optical width of the BMW M2 Coupé and support the brawniness of its appearance.

THE NEW BMW M2 COUPÉ. LATERAL DESIGN.

The BMW M2 displays the characteristic BMW M proportions with its powerful flared wheel arches and large M wheels. The striking crease line surrounding the entire rear that promotes a prominent shoulder underline the strong athletic character.

The M gill behind the front fender is inspired by the first road vehicle developed by BMW Motorsport, the 3.0 CSL. With its striking spoiler parts in the front and rear it influenced noticeably the form of the aprons of the BMW M2 Coupé.

Looking at the exposed fenders, the sheer muscularity catches one's eye. They emphasise its motorsport genes.

The overall compact silhouette is framed by the distinctive front and rear bumper to underline the superb dynamics.

THE NEW BMW M2 COUPÉ. REAR DESIGN.

The rear of the BMW M2 pursues a very wide and firm stand. The optical bracket familiar from the front is repeated in the rear by using vertical reflectors on the far outsides of the rear apron.

A unique feature adopted from the BMW 2 Series Coupé is the one-piece setup of the rear lights. Accurately framed by the joints of the boot lid, the horizontal rear light design supports the width of the vehicle.

M typical quad tailpipes are located close to a diffuser element, emphasising the athletic low centre of gravity and representing the power of the compact high-performance vehicle.

THE NEW BMW M2 COUPÉ. INTERIOR DESIGN.

All surfaces and lines in the cockpit radiate dynamics as well as a clear forward thrust. The interior design is very light and fresh but nevertheless shows the true sportiness of BMW M vehicles.

Decor trims with open pored carbon fibre or the upholstery with contrast stitching are used to offer an appropriate atmosphere that matches the superb driving experience.

M typical design features are also used in the interior like the M three-spoke steering wheel.

Each seat bears an embossed M logo to clarify the affiliation with the BMW M family.
